NextPlat's Global Telesat Communications Subsidiary Announces Global Reseller and Marketing Agreement with Blue Sky Network

Agreement Brings New Global Connectivity Products and Services to Customers in More Than 165 Countries

AVENTURA, FL – January 25, 2022 – NextPlat Corp (NASDAQ: NXPL, NXPLW) (“NextPlat” or the “Company”), a global e-commerce provider, today announced that its subsidiary, Global Telesat Communications Ltd (“GTC”), entered into a global Reseller and Marketing Agreement with Blue Sky Network, a pioneer in the development of satellite tracking systems and two-way communication for remotely active private, commercial, and government fleets. This agreement will make Blue Sky Network’s products and global communications service available to GTC customers in more than 165 countries around the world.

Under the terms of the agreement, GTC will offer Blue Sky Network products including SkyLink, a dual-mode data management solution for land, air, sea, and IoT applications. Operating on the Iridium Certus® 100 service, SkyLink offers a powerful combination of small size and high performance devices and service that will make it easier and more affordable for enterprise-grade voice, remote monitoring, and data management while enabling reliable coverage anywhere in the world. Devices can be installed in a vehicle, carried by a lone worker, affixed to an outdoor mast, or mounted inside a building, vessel, or aircraft.

David Phipps, President of NextPlat and CEO of Global Operations, said, “We are delighted to add Blue Sky Network to our growing list of global partners and look forward to working more closely with their team. As an organisation that defines itself by its development of advanced satellite monitoring and communication devices, Blue Sky Network and its products are a great addition to our portfolio of advanced connectivity solutions.”

“NextPlat’s GTC subsidiary is one of the world’s leading providers of advanced satellite communications products and services,” commented Gregoire Demory, President, Blue Sky Network. “Thanks to their extensive expertise and unrivaled global reach, we are confident that GTC is the right distribution partner for Blue Sky Network and we are very excited by the opportunity to bring our products to their large global customer base.”

About Global Telesat Communications

GTC, a subsidiary of NextPlat Corp (Nasdaq: NXPL, NXPLW), provides solutions to fulfil the growing global demand for satellite-enabled voice, data, tracking and IoT connectivity services. Our long-term experience providing government, commercial, military and individual consumers with mobile satellite services uniquely positions us to capitalize on the significant opportunities being created by the current global investment in new and upgraded satellite networks. Many of our products and services offer global or near global coverage, allowing users in remote locations to make phone calls, connect to the internet and track assets or personnel anywhere in the world. Together with our U.S. based sister company, Orbital Satcom, we have provided global satellite connectivity solutions for more than 50,000 customers located in over 165 countries across the world.
