Item 1. Description of Business

The Company

The Company intends to operate 3-D ultrasound centers for elective, non-diagnostic purposes. Centers will be located in commercial office parks, malls and shopping centers, rather than primarily near hospitals. Centers will initially be located in the Tampa, Florida, area.

The Company was originally formed to develop, own and operate a chain of full-service car washes and express oil change centers. The Company is a successor to Steele Holdings, Inc., a Florida Corporation formed on August 13, 1997. Rachel Steele was the sole shareholder and President of Steele Holdings. On January 20, 1998, the Company and Steele Holdings, Inc., were reorganized with all the assets of Steele Holdings being transferred into the Company. All 6,000 authorized shares of common stock were exchanged on a one-to-one thousand basis for shares in the Company. After the reorganization, all stock in the Company was owned by the Company's president, Rachel Steele. Steele Holdings has conducted no other business, held no other assets and was dissolved on October 16, 1998. On October 22, 1999, the Company changed its name to SwiftyNet.com, Inc. On January 29, 2001, the Company changed its name to Yseek, Inc.

The Company constructed an oil change center in Palm Harbor, Florida on real property owned by the Company (the "Center"). The approximately one (1) acre site was purchased from Champion Hills by the Company's predecessor for $312,500. The first Center was opened on January 18, 1999. The Center was sold on April 19, 2000, for a cash sales price of $1,000,000. The sales price was determined through arms-length negotiations. The car wash was purchased by In and Out Express Lube, Inc. There were no material relationships between the purchaser and the Company or its affiliates, or any officer or director, or any associate of such officer or director.

Late in 2000, the Company launched an Internet search portal called Yseek.com based on a ten-year software license it acquired in late 2000. In January 2001, the Company used the software to begin operating the Yseek.com web site. Yseek.com provided a free search engine and links by category to other World Wide Web sites at [www.yseek.com]. During 2001 and 2002, the Company entered into several short-term revenue sharing agreements with Internet host sites to generate traffic to the site and generate revenues. The Company's management with Internet related experience resigned from the Company in September 2002. New management elected in September 2002 decided not to pursue an Internet related business and therefore recognized an impairment loss for the unamortized value of the search engine in the fourth quarter of 2002.

On March 12, 2003, the board of directors voted to amend the Company's Articles of Incorporation changing the Company's name to Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc. The purpose of the name change is to reflect the Company's emphasis on developing 3-D ultrasound centers.

Background

Ultrasound has been used during pregnancy for diagnostic purposes since the late 1950's. Real-time scanners are currently used for such diagnostic procedures which provide a continuous picture of a moving fetus on a monitor screen.

Real-time scanners (2-D) use very high frequency sound waves between 3.5 and 7.0 megahertz and are generally used for diagnostic purposes. Sound waves are emitted from a transducer which is placed on the mother's stomach and moved to obtain an image of the fetus. The sound waves act much in the same manner as the reflection and distortion as light, changing wave length and direction as they cross the boundaries between media. Each sound wave emitted by the transducer is reflected by the mother and fetus and the reflection is recorded by the transducer. This occurs multiple times. The information obtained from different reflections are recomposed on the monitor screen.

3-D ultrasound fetal imaging was first developed in 1986, but was not practiced on a wide-spread basis until 1999, when new computer logarithms and more powerful computers were developed. 3-D ultrasound imaging systems work in a similar fashion as 2-D ultrasound systems, except that the transducer scans are processed to a greater degree and an array of micro-processor controlled transducers are used. The transducer array takes several hundreds or thousands 2-D ultrasound images over a 30-40 degree arc. Perception of a 3-D surface is achieved when these 2-D images are combined by a combination of depth shading, color mapping, texture mapping and ray tracing volume rendering, all of which are performed in a computer. While certain medical conditions are more easily diagnosed with a 3-dimensional scan, the primary purpose of such scanning is to allow mothers to see their babies prior to birth, and thus, bond with them. This use has been referred to as a "reassurance scan" or an "entertainment scan."

Equipment

The Company intends to purchase imaging equipment from National Ultrasound, Inc. of Norcross, Georgia at an approximate price of $50,000 per imaging system. The imaging equipment will be purchased for cash. The imaging equipment is not proprietary to the Company and will be purchased from third party suppliers. There are at least 6 suppliers of comparable equipment. As a result, the Company believes it will be able to obtain adequate equipment from numerous sources.

Employees

The Company anticipates that each center will have 3 full-time employees being comprised of a technician and 2 persons to operate the office.

Governmental Regulations

Because the Company believes its market will be primarily elective, non-diagnostic 3-D ultrasound scans, it does not anticipate significant Medicare or insurance billing. While imaging equipment will be operated by licensed technicians specifically trained in the operation of ultrasound equipment, the operation through the ultrasound equipment per se is not otherwise regulated. Government regulation of the operation of an elective, non-diagnostic 3-D ultrasound center could have an adverse impact on the profitability of the Company's centers.

Locations

The Company's centers will be primarily housed in malls and strip shopping centers. The Company does not anticipate purchasing any of its offices, rather renting them. Each center will be comprised of approximately 1,000 sq. ft. which will include two examining rooms, a waiting room and a business office. The Company has not yet entered into a lease for its first center , but believes that leases suitable for use as a center can be obtained on terms favorable to the Company, and does not anticipate any difficulty in obtaining suitable space for its ultrasound centers.

On March 12, 2004, the Company rented offices located at 14502 North Dale Mabry Highway, Tampa Florida for its corporate headquarters. The lease is for a term of six months and on a month-to-month basis thereafter. The rental under the lease is $600 per month. The leased space is approximately 183 square feet.

Competition

The Company will compete with existing medical imaging centers. The Company believes many of these centers do not yet have 3-D ultrasound equipment.

The Company will also compete with other companies which target the same elective, non-diagnostic 3-D ultrasound market as the Company, such as Clearview Ultrasound, Inc., FetalFotos, Inc. and BabyInsight, Inc. Since barriers to entry in the elective, non-diagnostic 3-D ultrasound market are comparatively low, it is anticipated that the Company will experience increased competition.

1Adjusted for 1-for-400 reverse split.

All sales were made pursuant to Section 4(2) of the 1933 Act. The proceedsof the sale of these securities to provide operating capital and development costs.

On February 1, 2003, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an individual to investigate a potential business opportunity for a period of ninety days. In exchange for services, the consultant will receive $10,000 and 2,500 common shares.

Special Note Regarding Forward Looking Statements.

This annual report on Form 10-KSB of Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc., f/k/a Yseek, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2003 contains certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which are intended to be covered by the safe harbors created thereby. To the extent that such statements are not recitations of historical fact, such statements constitute forward-looking statements which, by definition, involve risks and uncertainties. In particular, statements under the Sections; Description of Business, Business Strategy and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations contain forward-looking statements. Where, in any forward-looking statement, the Company expresses an expectation or belief as to future results or events, such expectation or belief is expressed in good faith and believed to have a reasonable basis, but there can be no assurance that the statement of expectation or belief will result or be achieved or accomplished.

The following are factors that could cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated, and include but are not limited to: general economic, financial and business conditions; changes in and compliance with governmental regulations; changes in tax laws; and the costs and effects of legal proceedings.

Item 6. Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the Financial Statements and the related Notes thereto included elsewhere in this report. This report contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. The Company's actual results may differ significantly from the results discussed in the forward-looking statements. Factors that might cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those discussed in "Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements."

PLAN OF OPERATION

During the first eight months of 2002, the Company's board of directors and officers were affiliated with companies and individuals with substantial experience in the internet industry. Prior to 2002, strategic alliances and consulting agreements had allowed the Company to acquire management and marketing expertise with these individuals and companies. In September 2002 these officers and directors elected new officers and directors and then resigned. The new officers and directors have been involved with the company since its inception, except for the period from April 2001 to September 2002.

In late 2000, the Company acquired a ten-year software license for the use of a keyword biddable search engine and related domain names. The Company entered into two traffic promotion agreements whereby each promoter provided hits to the Company web site. The Company issued stock in exchange for these agreements enabling the Company to move forward on its plans without the use of any funds. The stock issued under the traffic promotion agreements was returned in September 2002. New management elected in September 2002 decided not to pursue an Internet related business and therefore recognized an impairment loss for the unamortized value of the search engine in the fourth quarter of 2002. Management will attempt to sell the remaining term of the license however there is no ready market and the ultimate proceeds, if any, cannot be determined.

The Company's plans include acquiring or developing profitable business ventures. On February 1, 2003, the Company entered into a consulting agreement with an individual to investigate a potential business opportunity for a period of ninety days. In exchange for these services, the consultant will receive $10,000 and 2,500 common shares. Currently the Company is actively pursuing the business of 3-D fetal photography. 3-D fetal photography provides clear color photographs of an unborn child. The Company believes recent improvements make this technology practical and desired by parents. In response to the Company's decision to pursue this business venture, the Company received shareholder approval to pursue this venture and therefore changed its name to Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc. at its shareholders meeting on May 2, 2003.

The Company is currently working on the business model for a 3-D fetal photography center and a marketing plan for the first center. The Company has determined the design of the first center and has negotiated with vendors to provide equipment. The Company is also pursuing trademark protection. The Company is currently working on a business and marketing plan.

The Companies' plans to develop a profitable 3-D fetal photography business will require additional funds.

The Company adopted a subscription agreement to raise $300,000 of which $200,000 was to be used for fetal photography development and $100,000 for working capital. From September 2002 through December 2002, the Company received $138,730 from sales of common stock, of which $35,000 was from one of the new officers who is a major stockholder. This initial funding was used primarily to pay off debts and to fund minimal administrative costs. In 2003, the Company received $164,300 from sales of common stock. This funding was used to fund administrative costs and to fund the consulting agreement noted in a preceding paragraph. The Company plans to fund its near-term operations through additional sales of common stock.

As of December 31, 2003 the Company had little available cash. However, the Company's operations are currently minimal and the cash outflows have been substantially reduced. Additionally the Company's officers and board members have agreed to fund the Company's current level of operations if necessary. Additionally, the Company sold stock subsequent to December 31, 2003 as noted below.

In January 2004, the Company issued a private placement memorandum to issue up to 1,000,000 common shares at $5.00 per share to raise up to $5,000,000 to develop and operate imaging centers to provide ultrasound pictures of fetuses. These centers will be for elective, non-diagnostic purposes and will be located in commercial office parks, malls and shopping centers. The funds raised will be used for development costs, equipment, salaries, marketing and future public offering costs.

In October 2002 the Company entered into employment agreements with its vice president and treasurer. The employment agreements are for the period October 1, 2002 through September 30, 2003. Compensation under both agreements will be 11,250 common shares valued at $.01 per share. Bonuses can be paid at the discretion of the Board.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders
Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc.
f/k/a YSEEK, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc. as of December 31,2003, and the related statement of operations, stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

The financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002, were audited by other accountants, and they expressed and unqualified opinion on them in their report dated March 6, 2003, but they have not performed any auditing procedures since that date. As discussed in Note 8 to the financial statements, the Company has restated its 2002 financial statements during the current year to reflect a reverse stock split in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The other auditors reported on the 2002 financial statements before the restatement.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc. at December 31, 2003, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2003 AND 2002

(1) Significant Accounting Policies:

The following is a summary of the more significant accounting policies and practices of Advanced 3-D Ultrasound, Inc. (the Company) which affect the accompanying financial statements.

(a) Organization--Advanced 3-D Ultrasound, Inc. was incorporated on September 23, 1997. The Company was formerly know as Yseek, Inc. On March 12, 2003, the board of directors voted to amend the Company's Articles of Incorporation changing the Company's name to Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc. The purpose of the name change was to reflect the Company's emphasis on developing 3-D ultrasound centers.

(b) Operations--The Company intends to operate ultrasound centers for elective, non-diagnostic purposes Centers will be located in commercial office parks, malls and shopping centers The initial center is expected to be located in Tampa, Florida

In late 1999, the Company acquired a company that developed a web site to provide comparative statistical analysis of Internet advertising. This web site and its technology was abandoned in early 2001. Late in 2000, the Company launched an Internet search portal called Yseek.com. The Internet search portal was abandoned as an operating asset in late 2002 and internet operations were discontinued.

Originally the Company was formed to develop, own and operate a chain of full-service car wash and express oil change centers. The Company owned and operated one such center from January 1999 through April 2000. The center was sold in April 2000. The Company discontinued this segment of business.

(c) Use of estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that effect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

(d) Cash--For the purposes of reporting cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

(e) Loss per common share--Loss per share is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during each period in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 128, Earnings Per Share. In computing diluted earnings per share, warrants were excluded because the effects were antidilutive.

(f) Deferred income taxes-- Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statements carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective income tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized as income in the period that included the enactment date.

(g) Long-lived assets--Long-lived assets to be held and used are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the related carrying amount may not be recoverable. When required, impairment losses on assets to be held and used are recognized based on the excess of the asset's carrying amount over fair value of the asset and long-lived assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell.

(2) Loss from Impairment of Software License and Discontinued Operations:

Late in 2000, the Company launched an Internet search portal called Yseek.com based on a ten-year license it acquired in late 2000. During 2001 and 2002, the Company entered into several short-term revenue sharing agreements with internet host sites to generate traffic to the site and generate revenues. The Company's management with internet related experience resigned from the Company in September 2002.

In December 2002, current management determined they would dispose of their software license for an Internet search portal called Yseek.com due to the lack of revenues, experience of current management with internet businesses and due to the lack of funds available to generate sufficient revenues from the site. Management will attempt to sell the license however there is not an active market for such an asset, and no buyer is presently identified. As of December 31, 2002, the net book value of the license was $517,754. The Company recognized a loss from impairment of $517,754 in 2002 which is included in loss from discontinued operations in the statement of operations. The Company discontinued internet operations in December 2002.

Amortization expense on software license, which is included in loss from discontinued operations was $65,400 in 2002.

Summarized results of internet operations for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, are as follows:

	Year Ended December 31, 2003	Year Ended December 31, 2002
Net sales	$ -	$ 254
Operating loss	$ -	$ (593,558)
Loss from discontinued operations	$ -	$ (593,558)

(3) Income Taxes:

No provision for income taxes has been recorded for 2003 or 2002 due to net losses incurred.

Temporary differences giving rise to the deferred tax assets consist primarily of donated services recognized for financial statement purposes. Management has established a valuation allowance equal to the amount of the deferred tax assets due to the uncertainty of realization of the benefit of the net operating losses against future taxable income. The components of deferred tax assets at December 31, 2003, consist of the following:

Deferred tax assets:
Net operating loss	$ 2,207,000
Other temporary differences	27,000
Valuation allowance	(2,234,000)
Net deferred tax asset	$ -

The Company has operating losses of approximately $8,056,000 which can be used to offset future taxable income. These losses begin to expire in the year 2018 and expire in full in the year 2023.

(4) Stock Transactions:

During 2003, the Company sold 27,385 shares of common stock for cash of $164,300. During 2002, the Company sold 23,042 shares of common stock for cash of $138,730.

In 2000, the Company issued 14,300 shares of common stock under two traffic promotion agreements, with two companies related to then officers or directors of the Company. These agreements expired one year later. The Company recognized an expense of $1,287,000 related to these agreements. In September 2002, the two companies returned the entire 14,300 common shares. The companies executed mutual releases from any future claims, losses or rights. The shares received by the Company were recorded at cost, which was zero.

On January 15, 2003, the Company issued 2,500 shares of common stock under a consulting agreement. The Company recognized an expense of $15,000 related to this agreement which represents the market value of the shares issued. Market value was determined based on recent sales of stock for cash as noted above.

On October 1, 2002, the Company issued 22,500 shares of common stock under one-year employment agreements with two officers of the Company. The Company recognized an expense of $90,000 related to these agreements, which represents the market value of the shares less a discount because the shares are unregistered and are not easily marketable.

(5) Commitments and Related Party Transactions:

The Company entered into several agreements with related parties as described in Note 4.

During 2003, an officer and stockholder of the Company loaned the Company $6,368. This amount was repaid in 2003 without interest.

The above related party agreements are not necessarily indicative of the agreements that would have been entered into by independent parties.

(6) Warrants:

At December 31, 2002, the Company had outstanding exercisable warrants to purchase 249,000 shares of the Company's common stock at various prices based upon expiration dates. Warrants expiring in 2003 were exercisable at $7.00. Prior to expiration, the warrants may be redeemed by the Company at a price of $.01.

As of December 31, 2003 no warrants had been redeemed and all outstanding warrants expired.

(7) Stock Options:

The Company granted options to consultants under various consulting agreements. These agreements grant to the consultants the option to purchase shares of Company common stock at a fixed price of $.50 per share. Management has determined these per share prices equal or exceed fair market value. These options expire on the third anniversary date of the execution date of the respective agreement and are immediately vested.

A summary of consultant option activity follows:

	Year Ended December 31, 2003	2002
Outstanding, beginning of year	3,075,000	3,075,000
Issued	-	-
Expired	(3,075,000)	-
Outstanding, end of year	-	3,075,000

The Company follows SFAS 123 in accounting for stock options issued to nonemployees. The fair value of each option granted is estimated using the Black-Scholes stock option pricing model. The following assumptions were made in estimating fair value: risk-free interest rate of 5.38% in 2001; no dividend yield; expected life of one and one-half years; 9.53% volatility in 2001. There was no compensation cost related to these options.

(8) Reverse Stock Split:

The Company authorized a reverse stock split of its common shares on a 1-for-400 basis effective December 29, 2003. All references in the accompanying financial statements to the number of common shares and per-share amounts for 2002 and 2003 have been restated to reflect the reverse stock split.

(9) Subsequent Events:

Subsequent to December 31, 2003, the Company sold 15,000 shares of common stock for $75,000.

On March 12, 2003, the Company entered into an operating lease agreement for office space located in Tampa, Florida. The term of the lease is for six months and commenced March 18, 2003, and continues thereafter on a month-to-month basis for $50 per month. The total rent for the six months is $3,600 and the prorated rent for the fourteen days in March is $271 and is payable in advance in equal monthly installments of $600 plus applicable sales tax. In addition, a $600 deposit is due and payable in three equal installments upon the execution of the lease agreement.

(10) Going Concern:

As shown in the accompanying financial statements, the Company has incurred recurring losses from operations and at December 31, 2003, the Company's cash balance was $3 and its current liabilities exceeded it's total assets by $33,943.

Management has taken several actions to ensure that the Company will continue as a going concern through December 31, 2004, including obtaining written commitments from certain officers of the Company to fund future operations as needed. In addition, the Company expects a substantial increase in funds from the sale of its common stock within the quarter ending June 30, 2004. Management believes that these actions will enable the Company to continue as a going concern through December 31, 2004. There can be no assurance, however, that the Company will raise funds from the sale of its securities beyond those disclosed in these financial statements.

Item 8. Changes in and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

On October 31, 2003, Advanced 3-D Ultrasound Services, Inc. (hereinafter, the "Registrant") engaged Ferlita, Walsh & Gonzalez, P.A., as its independent auditors for the year ending December 31, 2003 to replace the firm of B2d Semago, which was dismissed as its auditors effective October 31, 2003. The decision to change auditors was approved by the Registrant's Board of Directors.

The reports of B2d Semago, on the financial statements of the Registrant for the years ended December 31, 2001 and December 31, 2002, did not contain an adverse opinion or a disclaimer of opinion and were not qualified or modified as to uncertainty, audit scope or accounting principles.

There were no disagreements with B2d Semago, which disagreements, if not resolved to the satisfaction of B2d Semago, would have caused it to make reference to the subject matter of the disagreement in the report, on any matters of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure or auditing scope and procedures in connection with the audits of the Registrant's consolidated financial statements for the two-year period ended December 31, 2002, or with regard to the Company's most recent 10-QSB filed August 14, 2003.

Committees of the Board of Directors

The Company's bylaws provide that the board may designate an executive committee and other committees, each of which shall consist of one or more directors. The board does not have an audit committee.

Compensation of Directors

Directors serve without compensation. Some directors are also employees of the Company: Ms. Steele and Ms. Ostrowski have each received 11,250 common shares for their services as Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively. During 2003, Mr. Ostrowski received compensation of $47,099.71, Ms. Ostrowski received compensation of $17,548.20 and Ms. Steele received compensation of $7,671.00.*

Ms. Steele donated her 2000 and 2001 salary to the Company. No other officer or directors have been compensated for their services in those capacities. At this time, the Company does not plan on paying its Board of Directors in return for their services as Directors.

Executive Compensation and Employment Arrangements

On October 1, 2002, the Company entered into identical employment agreements with Rachel Steele and Tanya Ostrowski (the "Employment Agreements"), which provided for annual compensation of 11,250 shares of Company's common stock. Under the Employment Agreements, Ms. Steele and Ms. Ostrowski were eligible for bonuses as determined by the Board of Directors. Both Employment Agreements expired September 30, 2003. At present there are no written employment or consulting agreements with any officer or director. During 2003, Mr. Ostrowski received compensation of $47,099.71, Ms. Ostrowski received compensation of $17,548.20 and Ms. Steele received compensation of $7,671.00.*

Item 11. Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management

There are no officer or director groups. As a group, the officers and directors of the Company own 27,282 common shares or 23.33% of the outstanding shares of the Company. As of March 22, 2004, the stock ownership of the Officers and Directors and 10% Shareholders was as follows.
